<h3>July - August</h3> <h4>Early Planning & Menu Development</h4> Begin preparations by August or September. Design festive menus for Christmas Day and party nights, featuring traditional, vegetarian, and plant-based options. Develop tiered packages for different group sizes and budgets, including food, drink, and entertainment. Get our locally minded sales team involved early to help. Start thinking about targeted marketing to attract both corporate and social bookings.	<h3>July - September</h3> <h4>Comprehensive Budgeting & Costing</h4> Calculate food, beverage, and labour costs for each menu, factoring in seasonal price changes. Speak to your sales representative to help you with this. They will also be able to help you set pricing to ensure strong profit margins while remaining competitive. Create detailed financial projections to assess profitability and adjust offerings as needed to maximize revenue during the festive period.	<h3>October-December</h3> <h4>Strategic Marketing Rollout</h4> Launch digital and print campaigns by October, targeting corporate clients, groups, and families. Promote special menus, party packages, and early booking incentives. Optimize your online booking system for increased demand, and implement deposit policies to reduce no-shows. Use email, social media, and local advertising to build anticipation and drive reservations throughout December.	<h3>October-November</h3> <h4>Staff Recruitment & Training</h4> Assess staffing needs based on projected bookings. Start recruiting temporary staff early, prioritising those with hospitality experience. Provide comprehensive training on festive menus, service standards, and handling high-volume periods. Hold regular team meetings to update staff on changes, reinforce cleaning protocols, and address feedback from previous years to ensure excellent service.	<h3>November</h3> <h4>Inventory & Order Management</h4> Forecast ingredient and beverage needs using past data. Order non-perishables in advance and organize storage to handle increased stock. Check out our delivery days over the festive period. Secure priority delivery slots before Christmas and remember our friendly, locally minded team are always at the end of the phone to help you out if you run into unexpected shortages or over bookings.	<h3>Early November</h3> <h4>Venue Preparation & Decoration</h4> Choose a festive theme that matches your brand and appeals to your customers. Decorate with quality ornaments, lights, and seasonal scents to create a welcoming atmosphere. Make sure venue layout accommodates expected guest numbers comfortably, by remains accessible and functional. See page 38 for our range of Christmas table decorations and crackers.	<h3>Late November</h3> <h4>Operational Preparation</h4> Streamline kitchen prep by scheduling advance work for menu items. Optimize table layouts and service routes for efficiency during peak times. Conduct practice runs with staff to anticipate challenges. Develop contingency plans for staff absences, unexpected demand, or supply issues, ensuring the team is ready for any situation throughout the busy festive period.	<h3>December</h3> <h4>Final Execution & Quality Control</h4> Hold daily briefings to address challenges, reinforce standards, and celebrate achievements. Implement real-time feedback systems to resolve guest concerns promptly. Assign senior staff to oversee quality control and support the team. Monitor staff well-being, offer incentives, and maintain morale to ensure consistent, high-quality service throughout December's demanding schedule.

Trending Christmas Recipe, Festive Portico Sole

Portico sole pan-fried and finished with a spiced citrus butter, capers, and chorizo for a jewel-like seasonal twist.

Cook the sole in a generous amount of butter, for 2 minutes each side before transferring to the oven. Season the remaining butter and add diced chorizo, capers, and a squeeze of lemon. Plate the sole and spoon over the butter-mix. Perfect with crushed potatoes and seasonal vegetables.

How to sell more plant-based food

Here are three quick tips to help sell more plant-based dishes

1. Include plant-based food on your menu alongside your meat options, not separately.
2. Make sure your dish descriptions are mouthwatering, appealing and packed with texture, flavour and provenance cues.
3. Consider flagging the dish as 'plant-based' rather than 'Vegan' to avoid alienating diners who also eat meat.

Plant-based Christmas Recipe, Festive Roast Quorn Joint

Quorn roast joint elevated with a festive spiced glaze, served on a bed of roasted seasonal vegetables & finished with jewels of pomegranate. A recipe with warming spices and a touch of sweetness.

We've glazed our Quorn roast joint with a mix of all-spice, ginger and maple syrup. Add an initial glaze to the joint and then continue to glaze halfway through roasting until you get a desired colour, serve with seasonal vegetables, pine nuts and pomegranate jewels

Recipe, Brioche Christmas Pudding Bake

The perfect festive sharer for two, tear and share garlic brioche, filled with cranberry sauce, cubes of Camembert, rosemary and orange peel.

Simply slice along the lines of the brioche to encourage gaps for you to load with cranberry sauce and cheese. Fill the gaps with cranberry sauce and cubes of Camembert. Tear off some fresh sprigs of rosemary and push these into the gaps, glaze with melted garlic butter and pop under the grill.

Creating the perfect cheeseboard

Cheeseboards are a great choice for Christmas menus, with profit margins reaching up to 40%. They're great for sharing and add real value for customers. Using cheeses with local origins or special credentials helps build trust and interest. Here's our six top tips to building the perfect cheeseboard.

- 1. Offer Variety and Balance

Include a mix of cheese types—soft, hard, blue, and a ‘wild card’ like smoked or regional specials. Odd numbers (three, five, or seven) look best and are easy to manage.
- 2. Theme Your Board

Rotate cheeses with the seasons; in winter, choose rich, comforting varieties and festive options like Wensleydale with fruit. Highlight quality British cheeses for added appeal.
- 3. Pairings and Accompaniments

Serve with a range of crackers, oat cakes, and fruit bread. Add chutneys, relishes, dried and fresh fruits, nuts, pickles, and olives for colour, texture, and flavour contrast.
- 4. Presentation Matters

Use a large wooden board or paddle for impact. Arrange cheeses in varied shapes, fill gaps with accompaniments, and use small bowls for dips. Finish with fresh herbs or edible flowers.
- 5. Serving and Practical Tips

Serve cheese at room temperature for full flavour. Pre-slice wedges for ease, and label cheeses for clarity and dietary info.
- 6. Portion Guidance

Allow 70–100g of cheese per person for a cheeseboard course, or 30–50g per cheese type for sharing. Top up boards as needed rather than overfilling.

THE SECRET TO SIGNATURE SAUCES.

A brilliant base, built for busy kitchens.

Your one stop shop to make...

Rich marinades, smooth drizzles, and irresistible dips. Heinz Mayonnaise is all you need to mix, create, and elevate your sauces.

Christmas brunches and seasonal sharing

We know Christmas Dinners and lunches are a key focus this time of year, but there is plenty of opportunity to extend the Christmas celebrations into other eating occasions. Here are some great ideas to get your customers into the festive spirit whatever time of day it is.

Seasonally Spiced Shakshuka

A vibrant twist on the Middle Eastern classic. Rich, spiced tomato and red pepper sauce is gently simmered with warming hints of smoked paprika, cinnamon, and a touch of chilli. We've topped it with a golden fried egg, avocado and pitta!

Crimbo Croissant

A classic with a Christmas twist, our Festive BLT Croissant is the perfect blend of comfort and indulgence – ideal for seasonal breakfasts, brunches, or light lunches. Buttery, flaky croissant pastry is filled with crispy smoked bacon, roasted turkey slices, wedges of creamy brie, fresh baby gem lettuce, and juicy tomatoes, then elevated with a generous layer of cranberry mayo for a sweet, tangy festive hit. Serve warm for best results – perfect for cafés, grab-and-go counters, or festive brunch menus with a gourmet edge.

Eggs Benedict (with a twist)

A luxurious seasonal spin on a brunch classic, our Festive Eggs Benedict swaps the traditional English muffin for a crispy herb-infused potato waffle, adding warmth, texture, and a touch of rustic charm to the plate. Topped with butter-soft poached eggs, slices of honey-glazed ham, and generously drizzled with a velvety hollandaise sauce, this dish is comfort food with a Christmas upgrade. A sprinkle of micro herb and a dash of cracked black pepper finish it off, making it as eye-catching as it is satisfying.

Loaded Festive Fries

Comfort food meets Christmas cheer in this irresistible plate of Festive Loaded Fries – the ultimate seasonal sharer or indulgent side. Golden, crispy skin-on fries are piled high with shredded turkey, brie, honey glazed roast-ed carrots and caramelised red onion petals, finished with crispy sage leaves. Why not add a dollop of garlic mayo or gravy on the side, this is festive feasting at its finest! Ideal for casual dining, party menus, or seasonal street food loaded with flavour and holiday spirit.

Festive Inspiration

From festive tapas to casual grab and go options, our inspiration brings flavour packed with a festive twist, perfect for sharing, grazing and pairing with festive drinks. Here are three seasonal takes on the all time favourite pigs-in blankets.

PIGS IN BLANKETS & COCKTAIL SAUSAGES

253233	Gluten Free Cooked Pigs in Blankets 🌱 G	1.4kg

Keep it simple, drizzle Pigs in blankets with hot honey and pair with gooey Halloumi fries and a scattering of jewel like pomegranate pearls.

Perfect for on the go– Pigs in blankets layered onto a butter-toasted ciabatta with a little heat kick from Stokes Chilli jam, serve with some root vegetable crisps. Perfect for cafés, grab-and-go counters, or winter lunch specials – comfort food with a sleigh-full of seasonal spirit

And lastly, Pigs in duvets, extra layers! A festive favourite re-imagined in irresistible pastry form – our Pigs in Blanket Sausage Rolls are the ultimate grab-and-go seasonal treat. These sausage rolls are perfect warm or cold – ideal for party Platters and café counters.

Christmas on the go!

Keep things crimbo all the day long with these specially seasonal grab and go bites and drinks for your day time snackers!
