The rise of British charcuterie means that it's easier to find delicious artisan cured meats for your menu boards that are made in the UK.

Combining innovation with traditional artisan methods, and the finest quality ingredients, we have sourced a range of delicious, cured meats that are sure to impress your customers.

Deli Farm Charcuterie

Cornish based Deli Farm Charcuterie base their methods on the Italian winter salami enabling them to create the perfect climatic conditions for drying and maturing. They source their prime cuts of meat from selected producers which are then mixed with herbs and spices and carefully hand crafted into natural casings.

Capreolus

Capreolus Fine Foods is a multi-award winning, family-owned English artisan charcuterie producer in Rampisham, West Dorset. Quality and provenance are of the utmost importance to them, sourcing locally bred and reared free-range meat wherever possible.

The Real Cure

The Dorset based Real Cure uses traditional curing, air drying and smoking techniques to make exceptional British charcuterie. Meat is the most important ingredient in charcuterie, and they make their award-winning range of cured meats using free range British pigs and sustainably sourced wild venison.

British Cheese

Balance out the sweetness on your dessert menu with our brand-new cheese selections. Our Best of British Cheeseboard & Wild Harvest Selection give your customers the chance to try award-winning and regional cheeses, or why not try the best vegan and dairy-free cheeses your taste buds will ever meet, with our 100% plant-based deli board selection. Combining a traditional farmhouse cheddar with that of a contemporary Parmesan, our new Sussex Charmer is the most exciting cheese you've ever heard of! We also have all the extras you need including South Downs Slightly Salted Butter and Peter's Yard Sourdough Crispbreads.

SOURDOUGH - The Healthier Alternative

NEW product in celebration of National Bagel Day January 15th

Sourdough is a healthier alternative to regular white or whole wheat bread. Although it has comparable nutrients, the lower phytate levels mean it is more digestible and nutritious. The prebiotics also help to keep your gut bacteria happy, and it may be less likely to spike blood sugar levels.

- BRC accredited
- No GM ingredients
- Suitable for vegans & vegetarians
- No additives or preservatives

Bagel Nash are proud to be part of the Food For Life Supplier Scheme.
